

Democrats Sweep Will County

A Democratic sweep of nation and state did not spare Will County.

Willard G. Blood, seeking re-election as Coroner was currently the only Republican on the county ticket to survive. With four out of 157 Will County precincts missing, Blood was leading Arthur O'Neil 40,767 to 39,892, a difference of 875.

Louis Bottino, Republican a veteran campaigner, lost to Sammy Berk for Clerk of the Circuit Court 36,545 to 38,173, with 17 precincts out.

One of the highlights of the election was the victory of George Sangmeister of Mokena and Frankfort, Democrat candidate for State's Attorney. With 17 precincts unreported, Sangmeister had 39,170 votes to 35,407 for George O'Brien. This gave Sangmeister a 3,763 plurality.

Harold Smith, a Frankfort accountant, GOP candidate for County Auditor, lost to Stanley B. Waznis, 38,281 to 35,769 on figures from 140 of 157 precincts. Waznis' plurality should average around 2500.

In the contest for Associate Judge of the Circuit Court Robert Higgins Republican, lost to Angelo Pistilli by approximately 2500 votes. With 17 precincts missing, Higgins had 35,846 and Pistilli 38,417.

President Lyndon Johnson and Governor Otto Kerner both carried Will County. On incomplete returns the President had some 43,000 votes compared to almost 34,000 for Barry Goldwater. With 17 precincts missing, Kerner edged Percy by 175 votes, 38,013 to 37,838.

John Erlenborn, Republican of DuPage County will be the new Congressman of the 14th District replacing Elmer Hoffman, who was defeated for Secretary of State. Erlenborn beat Jerry Ziegler by approximately 40,000 votes on incomplete returns from both Will and DuPage Counties.

A close race developed for Circuit Judge between Michael Orenic Republican, and John Cirricione, Democrat, both Joliet Lawyers.

With 4 Will County precincts missing out of the three counties, Orenic had a lead of 238 votes.

The fate of James W. Barr Joliet who resigned from the circuit bench to become a Republican candidate for Appellate Judge in the 3rd District, was not definitely known. At 6 a.m. Wednesday, Barr was reported running 4th in a field of 6 by almost 20,000 votes and it looked as if the Democrats would take this race.

In the state race, all of the Democrats carried Will

County with 17 precincts missing, the tally:

For Lt. Gov.: Samuel Shapiro (D) 38,536, John H. Altorfer (R) 35,538.

Blames Politics For Fire-Bombing Of Home

A fire-bomb, sometimes referred to as a "Molotov cocktail," was hurled into the living room of the home of Harold Bormet, Republican committeeman of Orland township last Thursday night. He was taken to Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, for treatment for shock and smoke inhalation. He was still hospitalized Monday.

He has no known enemies, Bormet said, and the only reason he could assign to the attack was his political activities. He had been campaigning vigorously for Goldwater and Percy and in the week prior to the bombing had received several anonymous threats over the telephone.

Other people in the neighborhood also reported receiving threats over the phone, warning them to remove Goldwater signs from their windows and a group of young hoodlums attacked a car at Orland Park because it carried Percyposters.

The attack at the Bormet home occurred shortly after 7:30 o'clock. Bormet was the only one at home at the time. He was in the basement, where he maintains his committeeman's office, preparing some kits for precinct workers.

Bormet said later that he heard the sound of breaking glass and then a muffled explosion. Running up stairs he found the living room a mass of flames. He attempted to extinguish the fire with a garden hose and in so doing was almost overcome by smoke. Meanwhile neighbors, seeing the fire, had called the Orland Park fire department.

Fire Chief Arthur Granat said the alarm was received at 7:58 and firemen were at the scene a few minutes later. They found Bormet almost on the point of collapse in the house, Granat said, and carried him out. An inhalator squad gave him oxygen and then took him to the hospital at Joliet.

Firemen quickly knocked out the blaze and then dragged the smoldering furniture and carpet out on the lawn where they could play water on it without damage to the house.

All the clothing that was in a closet in a hallway leading off the living room was destroyed by fire and the heat was so intense that the thermostat was melted off the living room floor. The damage was estimated at about $5,000.

Bormet said later that when he was attempting to quench the blaze in the living room he saw two bricks, wired together, lying on the floor.

Investigators from the Cook county police, led by John Fahey, reported finding the bricks and added that they were wired to the handle of a jug which apparently contained the flammable liquid that was sprayed about the room when it exploded.

The weighted jug was thrown thru a picture window at the front of the house. This was a thermopane window and for the arsonist to have succeeded in hurling the jug into the room, investigators said, he had to be close to the house.

A married daughter, Mrs. Sandra Bressi, of Tinley Park, had left the house a little after 7 o'clock. There were no lights on the ground floor, it was said, so it is possible that the bomber may have believed the place was unoccupied.

Another daughter, Janet, 20, and three sons, Harold, Jr., 21, James 17 and Jerry, 11, all live at home but were away at the time as was Mrs. Bormet, who had gone bowling.

The Bormets live on 92nd court, near 144th place.

Arrest Man With Bayonet In Orland Pk. Laundromat

Sgt. Robert E. Olson of the Orland Park police department arrested a 20-year-old Chicagoan at 1:30 Tuesday morning for questioning in connection with the break in of a bleach and soap machine in the Laundromat owned by Philip Ebeling at 143rd st. and LaGrange rd.

The officer did not see the man break into the machine so he was not charged with burglary. He was found to be carrying a bayonet, however, and was charged with unlawful use of weapons. Police say there was evidence that the bayonet was utilized to open the bleach machine.

This machine takes only nickels. The suspect, who gave his name as Thomas V. Zydek, of 5521 S. Racine ave., Chicago, had four nickels on his person when taken into custody. He was released on a $500 bond provided by his father.

Zydek was found to have a check in his possession that was made out to a friend. Of interest to police, the report states, was that the check was written on a blank that was reportedly stolen in a recent Chicago burglary. The information was given Chicago police.

St. Boniface Breaks Ground

A ground breaking ceremony will be conducted for the new St. Boniface Episcopal church building at 4 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 8, by the Very Reverend Joseph W. Peoples Jr., at the church property, 16300 S. Oak Park ave., Tinley Park. This property has recently been annexed to the village.

St. Boniface originated as a mission founded by residents of Tinley Park and sponsored by St. John's Episcopal church, Flossmoor.

Father John F. Plummer celebrated the first Holy Eucharist on Sept. 14 at the old American Legion hall on North st., where services were being held.

For many months the Episcopal Diocese of Chicago provided spiritual guidance to this small group by sending temporary priests. The congregation, complete except for a resident priest, moved to a school house located on 171st st., east of 80th ave., where they presently worship.

On July 7, 1961, The Rev. Warren E. Richardson was assigned to St. Boniface as its first resident priest. The present priest, The Rev. Robert N. Warner took charge on Oct. 1, 1963.

Contractors for the new building are Malysa and Svenson.

Research from the University of Illinois and at experiment stations in other midwestern states shows little if any yield advantage for fall plowing. But with ideal weather and corn and bean harvest early this year, you may be tempted to do your plowing this fall.

Before you decide, consider your soil type, its slope your available time and the weather. Fall plowing will help you spread your work load. Getting the job out of the way in the fall often lets you plant earlier the following spring. In some years early-planted corn shows a yield advantage, but it's due to early planting made possible by fall plowing.

A fall-plowed catch crop or meadow OCCASIONALLY shows a yield advantage when spring moisture is low. But in the long run it will probably pay you to leave most legumes, except sweet clover, on the land as long as possible in the spring. This takes maximum advantage of their nitrogen - supplying powers. If you plow legumes in the fall, plow as late as possible -- when soil temperatures are low -- to prevent rapid breakdown of plant tissue. Late plowing helps to reduce nitrification and loss of nitrates through leaching.

Often your plowing decision will depend on your soil. On poorly drained, high-clay, high - organic - matter soils, fall plowing is almost a must. In most years these soils are wet in the spring for so long that spring plowing can cause "puddling," which either results in a very poor seedbed or requires several diskings. Such soils -- at least those with a fairly high organic content -- are easily tilled next spring after fall plowing, since the alternate freezing and thawing granulates and breaks up soil clods.

It's a different story with low-organic silty soils. Here freezing and thawing after fall plowing may break up the soil granules so much that you will need to plow again next spring. Fortunately, most Illinois soils do not fall in either of these categories.

On the better drained Illinois soils, consider the amount of erosion you're likely to get from rain, melting snow or wind. Fall plowing is risky on slopes greater than two percent, particularly on long slopes of 200 feet or more.

If you fall-plow, leave all of your ground as rough as possible. This allows the water to soak into the soil and helps to prevent runoff. It also reduces wind erosion, a real threat in some years. In the spring one disking or cultivation to keep weeds just before planting is all the tillage you'll need in order to make a good seedbed on most fall-plowed ground.

Most wind erosion comes from southwestern winds in April and early May during dry springs. You can reduce wind erosion -- from one-fifth to one-half -- by leaving a buffer strip of unplowed land three to four rows wide at 80 - to 160-foot intervals.

Living Cost Keeps Rolling

(CNS) Food and clothing price increases in September exceeded prior reductions from July's all-time high consumer price index, the U.S. Department of Labor disclosed Friday. Only a gasoline price war, lower car prices, and rent reductions, some seasonal, enabled the over-all index to remain at 106.3 from August, which is 0.3 below the July high, based on 1957-59 prices.

Food was up 0.7 pct., to 107.0 while in July it hit only 106.8. July and August, 1963 had the all-time food high of 107.5, but then it dropped starting with September.

Apparel and upkeep was up 1.8 for August, to 102.9, which is 0.3 below a year ago, and this is due in part to seasonal woolen clothing, it was explained.

In the food category, meats, poultry and fish showed a 2.9 pct. rise from August, to 103.6, but were still 0.6 below a year ago.

hints for homeowners

BY: RICHARD DeLANO
Cook County Assistant
Adviser in Ornamental Horticulture

If you've wanted to hide an unsightly view with a fast growing very tall screen or hedge, you've probably considered the Lombardy poplar. Its fast growth, slender shape, and great height have made it ... unfortunately ... very familiar to homeowners.

It's true that in twelve years the Lombardy poplar is at an effective screening height. It's also true that at this same time a disfiguring canker starts to invade. You've probably noticed these Lombardy poplars with large sections of dead wood or disfigured tops. This is the result of the everpresent canker that is unique to Lombardy poplars. Since no method of prevention or cure is known for the disease, it's good sense to plant tree varieties which give the same effect but are resistant to insect and disease.

Edyth Escher Dies; Rites At Orland Monday

Mrs. Edyth Harriet Escher died in Presbyterian - St. Lukes hospital Friday, Oct. 23. She had resided in Orland Park with a daughter, Virginia, at 9231 W. Birch st., the past three and one-half years.

Her husband John preceded her in death.

She was born in Janesville, Iowa, Sept. 29, 1892.

Survived by one son Donald; two daughters, Helen Clift of Colorado and Virginia of Orland Park; one brother Harold and 3 grandchildren.

Services were held from Schmaedeke funeral home to Christ Lutheran church, Monday, Oct. 26 at 10 a.m. Rev. Alex F.C. Pfothner officiated.

Her body was taken to Janesville, Ia. where graveside services were held.

A close cousin to the Lombardy is the fast growing Bolleana poplar. It's not quite as slender as the Lombardy, but it has a much longer life. You can recognize it as one of the white poplars by its deeply lobed leaf. The Lombardy, on the other hand, has a distinctly triangular shaped leaf.

Narrow upright columnar Norway maples are also useful for screening and planting in narrow confined areas. Although fast growing, they don't grow quite as fast as poplars. However, they have a much longer life span. Several types of columnar maples such as Ascendens and Columnare are hardy in Cook County.

Another large tree that is available in an upright form is the Columnar Big-leaf Linden. Upright types of American elms are also available. The Augustine Ascending Elm and Moline Elm are two examples. Unfortunately, both are very susceptible to Dutch elm disease.

Some outstanding medium sized trees, those that grow to a height of about 35 feet, are the mountain ash, various varieties of crabapples and the upright English oak.

The upright mountain ash that I observed in the Wilmette area had leaves and fruit that was somewhat heavier and glossier than the usual mountain ash.

As for the upright flowering crab trees the varieties Strathmore, Sundog, and Beauty should be among those considered.

For a sight that wears the label of elegance, consider a visita made of upright English Oaks. Another use for a pair of these trees would be a luxurious entrance announced by these pillars of green.

It's a luxurious living screen you want, don't limit yourself to the short-lived Lombardy poplar. Many vastly superior trees also have this interesting upright shape.

Cut Tax Levy

(CNS)—The Metropolitan Sanitary District will reduce its tax levy in 1964 from 32.8 to 31.2 cents per $100 assessed valuation, it was announced by John B. Brandt, chairman of the trustees committee on finance.

The $1,620,464 savings for 1964 are brought about by the abatement for bond and interest purposes, Brandt said, and amounts to, for example, $1.60 on a $10,000 assessed valuation.

Factors reducing the tax levy include the retirement of $9,341,000 principal in bonds in the current year, thus the 1964 levy of taxes for interest payments can be abated in amount of $207,421, Brandt said. Delinquent tax collections have been higher than estimated, and interest has been earned on idle money in various bonds and interest sinking funds.

The tax levy reduction is the sixth in the last seven years, Brandt said. The exception was in 1961 when the accelerated program of construction made an increase necessary.

The regular meeting of the WSCS will be held Monday evening, November 9 at 8 p.m. in Wesley Hall. The program will consist of a panel discussion "The Young American Mother -- Who Is She?" Several young mothers from the church will be members of the panel. Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Charles Cosgrove, Mrs. Arthur Coche-rell, Mrs. Jack Ludes and Mrs. Bill Adams. All ladies of the church are cordially invited to attend and bring a neighbor or friend.

Rehearse At L-W For 'Yeoman Of The Guard'

"The Yeoman of the Guard", a Gilbert & Sullivan operetta, is to be presented next week-end at Lincoln-Way high school by the choral groups there under the direction of Tom Olson.

A Gilbert & Sullivan operetta is always gay, bright and tuneful and the several that the Lincoln-Way choristers have put on over the years have been well received by the audiences. And by the same token it is expected that "The Yeoman of the Guard" will please.

The production is to be staged Nov. 13, 14 and 15, in the school auditorium. The Saturday night (Nov. 14) is sold out, it was announced, and only a few -- about 100 -- tickets are available for Friday night. There are plenty of tickets for the matinee Sunday, it was stated. Tickets may be purchased from members of the chorus.

The scenes for "The Yeoman of the Guard" are centered around the Tower of London in the 1500 -- something when "off with his head" was a not uncommon order by judges and monarchs.

In this piece the hero, Col. Fairfax is scheduled to die for being a sorcerer. He wasn't of course but a wicked cousin has trumped up the charge so he can inherit the colonel's estate. There is one little proviso in the way -- if the colonel marries the cousin loses out.

You can guess the rest of the plot. The colonel marries and is then supposed to keep his appointment with the headsman. The girl he marries is blindfolded so she doesn't know what he looks like, and vice versa. Naturally, the colonel is rescued before the ax falls and spends the rest of the time in disguise until the last scene -- with all the complications such a situation could generate.

That's the book. The lyrics, "When Maiden Loves," "When Our Gallant Norman Foes Took Over," "I Have A Song to Sing, O!" "Oh, A Private Buffoon," "Strange Adventure," "A Man Who Would Woo A Fair Maid," and "When A Wooer Goes A-Wooling," are quite entertaining.

MAKES PLEA for life of Col. Fairfax. The pleader is Bonnie Fredin as Elsie and the person to whom she is addressing her petition is Mike Mahan as The Lieutenant who is scheduled to officiate at the beheading of the colonel (Steve Stauffenberg). The choruses at Lincoln-Way high are now rehearsing for the operetta, "The Yeoman of the Guard," to be presented Nov. 13, 14, 15. (L-W photo)

"A MAN who would woo a fair maid, must 'prentice himself to the trade,'" explains Col. Fairfax (Steve Stauffenberg) to Jack Point (Dennis Cappel) in rehearsal of "The Yeoman of the Guard" at Lincoln-Way high school. The two maids by the way are Elsie (Bonnie Fredin) and Phoebe (Pat Hartnell). The scene is from Act II. (L-W photo)

Braves Beat L-W, 40-13

After Close First Half

BY NORM BEEBE
Lincoln-Way grid Knights fell to the Braves of Bremen by a score of 40-13. For the Knights, this is their sixth loss in conference play with only one victory. The Braves have five losses in conference play with two victories. The Knights were the first to score in the game when Howie Grimes plowed through the Braves defense for the needed yards. Tom Hamilton's attempt for the extra point was good.

Lincoln-Way's seven point lead was broken early in the second quarter when Stanley Strand, senior halfback for Bremen, scampered two yards for the first six points for Bremen. Jim Moore's conversion attempt was good. The score at the half, Lincoln-Way 7, Bremen, 7.

The Knights started the third quarter when sophomore tackle Don Ball snatched a fumble by the Braves. Lincoln-Way started a drive but were unable to get a first down.

Bremen's second touchdown came when Pete Webb, senior fullback, charged 44 yards to pay dirt. Moore's conversion attempt was short of its mark. The Braves started another drive when Al Skorupa snatched a pass intended for Howie Grimes on the Knights 35 yard line. After a series of plays, the Braves found themselves on the Knights 2 yard line. Pat Daily, Bremen's quarterback, ran the needed two yards for the touchdown. The extra point attempt was good to give Bremen a 20 to 7 edge over the Knights at the end of the third quarter.

Three touchdowns were scored against the Knights in the fourth quarter. Their first one came when Pete Webb scampered 43 yards. Moore's kick for the conversion was good. The Braves second touchdown came when Pat Daily tossed a nine yard pass to Danny O'Connor. Moore's kick was good. The last touchdown for the Braves came when Leo Rudzki threw a long 40 yard pass to Al Skorupa in the closing seconds of the game.

The Knights scored their last touchdown when Keith Schram tossed a 20 yard pass to Howie Grimes. Hamilton's kick was short of its mark.

Lincoln-Way gained 119 yards in the air compared to Bremen's 79.

The Knights will meet Oak Lawn next Saturday at Oak Lawn for their last game of the season.

Calling All Former Mokena Cage Players

On Friday, Nov. 6, a celebration has been planned for the first basketball game to be played in the new Willowcrest school gymnasium. All basketball players that have played for Mokena either grade school or high school from 1928 - 1963 will be guests for the game. Special recognition will be given to former players that played from 1928 - 1932 when the Carpenter Street School gymnasium was new.

Mokena lightweights will play Frankfort lightweights at 6:30. At 8:00 p.m. Mokena heavyweights will play Arbury Hills. Between games there will be a girls volleyball exhibition. Last years team, now Lincoln-Way freshmen, have challenged the present 8th grade team.

It is hoped that many people in the community will attend this big evening.

PULLED DOWN -- Bremen Fullback Stan Strand (32) had intentions of going somewhere but his drive only carried him into the waiting arms of Lincoln-Way's Tom Hamilton, just as Ray Hommes hit him from the rear. That No. 66 coming up to assist is Wendell Bormet. (Graphic Newspapers photo)

Eagles Play Rich East In Season's Final Saturday

BY DOUG CONNELL

The Eagles of Carl Sandburg will meet the Rockets of Rich East in the final game of their Southwest Suburban Conference football season Saturday. The team, downed 25-6 by unbeaten Evergreen Park last week will close out the season at 2 p.m. at home.

Despite some fine individual performances, the Eagles allowed the Mustangs to capitalize on a few costly errors to dominate the game. Four touchdowns and an extra point combined to give the Mustangs their sixth straight conference victory.

Evergreen scored late in the first quarter as halfback Bob Ahrens plunged from the 3-yard line to give the Mustangs an early lead in the game. The Green and White added another tally in the second period as Ahrens scored again, this time on a dive from the one-yard line. Evergreen lead at the half 12-0.

Midway thru the third quarter, the Mustangs struck again after a drive from their own 40-yard line. At 5:37 quarterback Bill Ciz picked up a block and ran 10 yards for the touchdown. Ciz added another point to the Mustang effort by running the extra point.

The Eagles finally began to move the ball in the fourth period and Chuck Heffner carried from the 10-yard line for the only Eagle score of the afternoon, Peterson's extra point kick failed.

Evergreen took charge again after the kickoff and brought the ball down to the Eagle 10-yard line with only 15 seconds remaining. Quarterback Ciz, who did a fine job all afternoon, swept around end for the touchdown.

The Eagle's performance was better than the score would indicate, however, as several individuals displayed fine efforts. Phil Aliano and Roland Roth, winners of the week's hustle awards, had particularly fine ball games.

The key figure in the action last week was Evergreen quarterback, Bill Ciz, who was largely responsible for the Mustang success. An average of six yards per carry and a deadly passing performance will make him a top candidate for All-Conference honors.

Ciz marshalled a shifty, speedy backfield that refused to yield to the much respected Eagle defense. The Mustangs took advantage of two fumbles and a few costly Eagle errors to continue their unblemished season record. The gam boosts the Mustangs' chances of the conference grid title. For sole possession of the crown, they need to down Reavis this Friday.

The loss last weekend gives Coach Joe Devine's varsity Eagles a 2-4 record as they go into Saturday's game with Rich East. The sophomore Eagles, fresh from their victory over the soph Mustangs, will meet the junior Rockets at 12:15 p.m. on their home field. Varsity action starts at 2 p.m.

The freshmen Eagles closed out their season Saturday morning, bowing 12-6 to the young Mustangs. Dave Sullivan tallied the lone score for the Eagles. The loss gives the team a 4-3 record for the season.

Coach Robert Gadt praised his youthful players, saying that the important thing about the team was that "altho the kids knew nothing about football at the beginning of the season, they stayed right in there and ended up doing a good job when the season closed out." He commended Pepper Pettit, quarterback; Dave Sullivan, fullback; and ends Mike Snodgrass and Kenny Miller for fine seasons.

Line coach, Don Brumleve, singled out Mark Leatzow and Bill Devine for commendation, adding that "We had 10 interior linemen at the start of the season and the same 10 players were with us at the close. They all show promise."

The freshmen Eagles defeated Stagg, 14-7; Lincoln-Way, 14-0; Homewood - Flossmoor, 21-19; and Oak Lawn 14-0. Losses came to Reavis, 13-6; Bremen, 27-0; and Evergreen Park, 12-6.

Burros Down DG Grid Outfit Again, 6 To 0

The Burros of Mokena won 6-0 in a tight defensive game against the Downers Grove Moose. A second period 34 yard touchdown pass from Tobey Krueger to Terry Ryan proved to be the difference Sunday afternoon at Downers Grove. This was the Burros second win over the Downers outfit.

Downers Grove sensing victory throughout the second half hammered repeatedly at the Burros defense, but the defensive platoon was up to anything Downers Grove could come up with. Tension grew as the minutes ticked off the Downers Grove Moose getting closer to the Burros goal. The middle of the Mokena line was the game saver with Duane Pierson, Dave Moutrie, Mark Knize and Brian Kniernim taking a real beating.

On offense, the workhorse of the Burros was Bill Zugbuehler, who gained 68 yards in 13 carries. First downs were Mokena 11, Downers Grove, 5.

This Saturday the Burros will play the Kankakee Moose at 1:30 p.m. A second game will start at 3 p.m. Tinley Park will play Kankakee in a lightweight game for the 2nd contest.

Spider Time Again--

By ROBERTS MANN
(CONSERVATION EDITOR FOREST PRESERVE DIST.)

This is Spider Time. Now they appear to be most numerous and busy at spinning webs. Part of the haze during autumn days is created by millions of spiderlings that climb to high perches and spin long filaments of silk by which they are wafted aloft on currents of warm air and may be carried hundreds or thousands of miles. Probably that is why there are spiders on lonely islands, deserts and almost every part of the world except mountain tops and arctic regions.

When we walk thru a woodland these days, cobwebs, strung from tree to tree, cling to our faces. In the mornings, on lawns and sparkling with dew drops, we see dozens of filmy handkerchiefs spun by grass spiders. In gardens and fields we see the marvelous webs of orb-weavers.

There are at least 2000 species of spiders in this country but only a few families of them build elaborate webs. In each family the females construct a distinctive type of web and there are four general types: orb webs, funnel webs, sheet webs, and the irregular festoons built by house spiders. All of them are built for a purpose: as traps to catch insects.

One of the truly wonderful performances by any animal is the intricate web constructed with geometric precision by the big black-and-yellow garden spider -- one of the orb-weavers -- and if necessary she can complete it in one hour. For a step-by-step description of the way she does this, and the kinds of silk variously used, we recommend "The Story of Spiders" written by Dorothy Shuttlesworth, profusely illustrated, published by Garden City Books.

Altho the garden spider has eight eyes, she builds a web almost entirely by touch. Underneath her abdomen are six spinnerets that can be extended or compressed and used like the fingers of a human hand. Each spinneret has "faucets" and "spools" connected by tiny tubes to several types of glands. Each type manufactures in liquid form, a different kind of silk. Filaments of the several kinds are used singly or in combinations for specific purposes in certain locations. Most strands are composed of more than one filament. They solidify and become stronger than steel when drawn out and exposed to the air.

The sheetlike webs that sometimes appear overnight on lawns and meadows, especially in autumn, are built by the funnel-web or grass spider. Each sheet extends outward from a funnel-like opening beneath which the spider lurks in waiting for grasshoppers and other insects that may alight upon it. She constantly enlarges the web and, if undisturbed, it may become a square yard in area. In autumn, after laying eggs in one or more sacs that are hidden in secluded places, she dies. The spiderlings emerge in spring and their delicate webs may be seen in May.

The common house spider is detested by housewives because it sometimes spins a web near the ceiling in a corner of some room or closet. Generally, however, they frequent dark less-used places such as attics, cellars, barns, sheds, or under porches; and are useful as destroyers of flies, mosquitoes and moths. A typical web, usually built at night, has a central sheet of densely woven silk which serves as a hiding place and is anchored by numerous guy lines that are long and strong.

This spider is one of the large family known as the comb-footed spiders. On each of the hind pair of legs they have a row of curved bristles used to fling strands of silk over any insect that blunders into the web and render it helpless. They have been known to capture, kill, and suck the body liquids from a baby mouse.

In autumn, most of the gossamers in fields and drifting thru the air were spun by the tiny Balloon spiders. Sometimes, borne away by those streamers, they are found far above the clouds or far out at sea.

Threads of gossamer, threads of life, fairy bridges by a spider's wife.

Pumpkin Pie Time Here Again

It won't be long until it is pumpkin pie time again and mom will be getting out the favorite family recipe for this traditional fall and wintertime dessert. Usually pumpkin pie is made with a custard base of milk and eggs, baked in a pie crust. Or the chiffon-type pumpkin pie, also popular, is a lighter, fluffier type pie made in a baked or crumb crust that is refrigerated rather than baked.

A new and spicy chiffon-type pie is this recipe for Sour Cream Pumpkin Pie. Dairy sour cream, one of the most versatile of dairy foods, is one of the major ingredients in this pie and adds a creamy smooth texture and a slight spark to the flavor that really sets it off as a most elegant dessert. Dairy sour cream is becoming more and more popular as an ingredient in prepared dishes as well as a topping on vegetables, fruit and a variety of desserts.

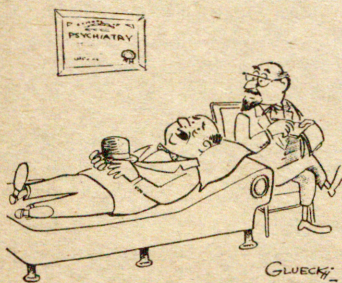

The next time you plan to make a pumpkin pie try this recipe for sour cream pumpkin pie and listen to the compliments of the whole family and your guests.

Seeks Ways To Reduce Sewer Burden At CSHS

Physical Education students at Carl Sandburg high school will soon notice a difference in their showers, as the result of action taken by the District 230 board of education. Last month the group ordered a survey of the sewage disposal system at the school after discovering it was operating at or near capacity.

Preliminary results show that an excessive amount of water is being put into the system from the shower and the rest rooms. Already the stools have been adjusted so that they flow three gallons of water each hour, instead of five and one-half. This reduced the water put into the system measurably.

The next step, according to Supt. W. O. Fisher, is to reduce the flow of water from the 68 showers in the school, which run about 28,000 gallons of water each day. Board members agreed to install water-control valves on the showers which will bring water usage down to about 8,000 each day for showers. Altho the installation of these valves will cost about $400, it is hoped that the action will bring the volume of water well within the capacity of the sewage system.

Fisher said the board should consider the possibility that the situation cannot be corrected by installing the valves. "But it may eliminate the problem without any major construction or remodeling," he said. "We simply don't have the money to begin work now. I think we have to take the chance."

The group approved two change orders, the last to grow out of the construction of Stagg high. Change orders authorize relatively minor additions or deletions in the building as it is being constructed and usually involve a cost of less than $300.

Board president C.E. McBurney said that the orders issued during Stagg's construction totaled nearly zero. Calling this a "real remarkable thing on a $1.75 million job," he gave credit to architects Schmidt, Garden and Erikson and to Superintendent Fisher, "who spent two years chasing down ways to save us money."

Payment of $20,311 to Newgren Construction Company was authorized by board members pending settlement of a disagreement over the wiring for heating and lighting in the addition to the Sandburg cafeteria. The job is now 60 days past the completion date.

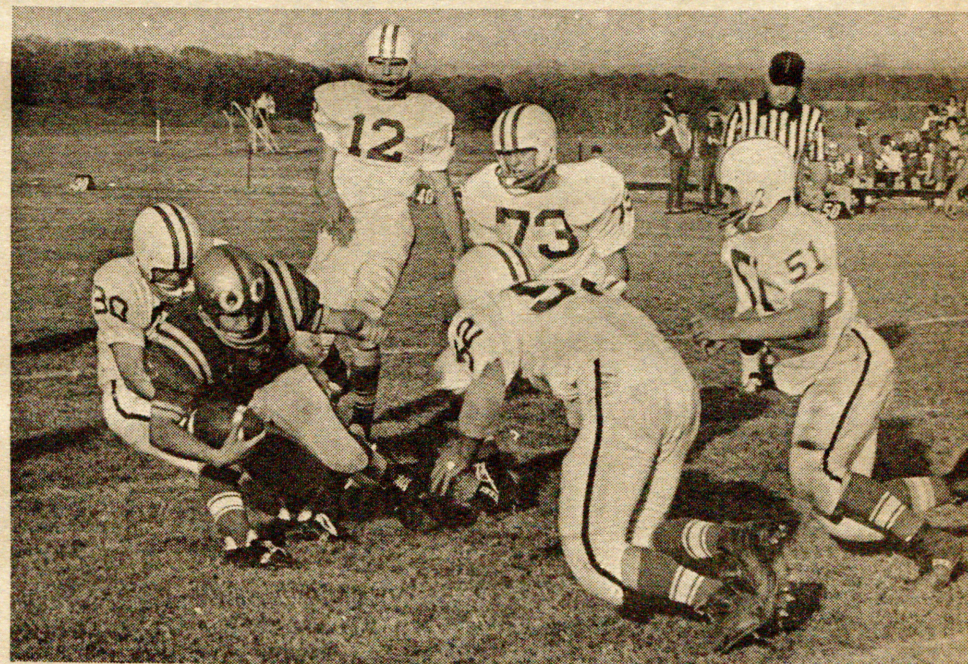

Board members also accepted a settlement of about $41,000 for damage to Sandburg and Stagg high schools from the storm last June. The settlement will meet bills submitted by contractors who made the repairs and reimburse the school for work it did in getting Sandburg ready for summer school the Monday following the storm.

The group requested a six month extension in which to complete the safety survey at Sandburg. Begun last month, the survey will be completed sometime in November. A letter last week from the county superintendent's office requested the information by May 15. The survey of Stagg High will be completed by Aug. 25.

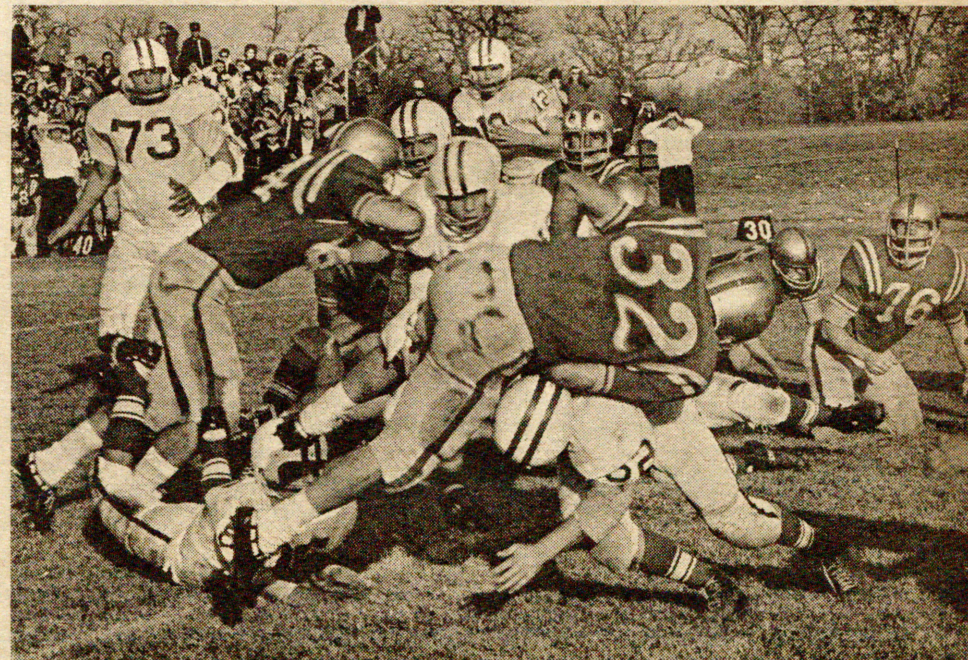

Board members heard a report from Roy Erdman, district business manager, which reviewed his work for the past four months and outlined future plans. They also approved the payroll for the period ending Oct. 5 in the amount of $56,859.75.
